

June 2026

Dear valued client,

We are pleased to share that Labcorp, a global leader in innovative and comprehensive laboratory services, has acquired Tribal Diagnostics.

Tribal Diagnostics is well known for its personalized service, strong regional relationships, and responsiveness to client needs. Labcorp brings national scale, scientific expertise, advanced systems, and a broad portfolio of diagnostic services

Both organizations share a strong commitment to clinical quality, reliability, and long-term partnership with healthcare providers and the communities we serve. Our priority is to maintain continuity—ensuring you continue to receive the same high level of service and personal attention—while gaining access to additional tools, resources, and capabilities supported by Labcorp.

At this time, no action is required on your part. Our teams are working closely to ensure a smooth transition to Labcorp with minimal disruption. In the coming weeks, the Labcorp team will reach out to answer questions, plan your transition, and offer continued support. Please see the attached FAQs for additional details.

Through this acquisition, physicians, patients, and customers will benefit from expanded access to Labcorp's scientific expertise and comprehensive laboratory offerings, while building on the trusted service and relationships established by Tribal Diagnostics.

We greatly value our partnership with you and appreciate your continued trust. We are confident that this next chapter, as Tribal Diagnostics transitions to Labcorp, strengthens our ability to support your practice, and we look forward to serving you for years to come.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Cory Littlepage".

Cory Littlepage
CEO
Tribal Diagnostics

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jon Booth".

Jon Booth
SVP Mid-America Division
Labcorp